W. A. FRASER returned from Calgary on Monday's train, and left for the Landing yesterday. He succeeded in getting the repairs required to the machinery made in Calgary, so that he is enabled to resume work more quickly than he expected.

CHAS. SCHWARTZ, who went to Jasper House on a hunting and prospecting trip last spring, returned on Tuesday for supplies. He brought in some fur and a sheep's head which he disposed of to R. Second, and started back this morning to hunt, for the winter. He did not find anything valuable in the way of mineral.

MR. SEXSMITH returned from the Jasper House on Monday, to which point he went in the spring in company with ex-corporal Cowan for a season's hunting and prospecting. They went from Jasper House to Smoky river and had an excellent season's hunting, having killed a large number of caribou and sheep. Mr. Cowan is expected to arrive shortly.

JOHN GRAHAM, who went to the Jasper House in the spring in company with Mr. Turnbull, returned on Monday. They were prospecting and went to the other side of the mountains. They struck gold bearing quartz, some of which they pounded fine, washed out, and gathered the gold with quicksilver. Thos. Houston purchased the gold from Graham, who is starting back at once to rejoin his partner with supplies to enable them to remain all winter.

THE Hon. T. M. Daly, minister of interior is widely known as a joker. His latest is stated in a telegram from Ottawa which says that "An order-in-council has been passed on the report of Hon. T. M. Daly, submitting that for convenience of settlers in the unorganized and unnamed districts of the North West, and for postal purposes, the whole of the territories are to be divided into provisional districts, defining that four districts be established, viz., Ungava, Franklin, Mackenzie and Yukon." There does not happen to be a settler in the ordinary sense of the word or a post office or a mail route in any sense of the word in any part of any of the districts mentioned.

A VERY handsome monument has been erected this week in the Edmonton cemetery to the memory of the late Mrs. Thos. Anderson, by her husband, Thos. Anderson, late land agent at Edmonton.

JOSEPH BELLEVUE, of Morinville, was fined $30 and costs on Tuesday last by Insp. Snyder, J. P., for letting out a prairie fire. The alternative was two months in jail. He was brought in last night by Major Griesbach to serve that term.

It has been decided to have the ball in aid of the new hospital on Wednesday, Nov. 6th, instead of Nov. 20th, as originally announced, as it was feared that at the latter date the roads might be breaking up and the river difficult to cross.

MONDAY's train brought one car hardware for Ross Bros., one car groceries for H. B. Co., one car sundries for Mackenzie, Powis & Co., one car flour for Larue & Picard, one car immigrants effects from Gretna, one car horses from Calgary, one way car and private car of Sir John Schultz.

MRS. POWELL, of Poplar lake, was awarded 1st prize for a crochet quilt and 1st prize for a baby's knitted dress at the Edmonton exhibition. These prizes were inadvertently omitted from the list published at the time. The quilt was a very handsome piece of work and was much admired by visitors at the exhibition.

W. GORDON CUMMING writes to R. Hardisty, of Merchiston ranch, under date of July 7th from British Central Africa. The letter reached Edmonton this week.
MR. CUMMING is prospecting for gold and has found plenty of gold bearing quartz, but too far in the interior to be worked profitably. He will return to Edmonton as soon as possible but expects to have to fight his way out as the natives in the vicinity are very hostile. He says the country is no garden of Eden and is fever stricken, although he has had only one slight attack as yet.

A MEETING was held in the Alberta hotel on Tuesday evening for the purpose of organizing a dramatic club. J. A. Boyle was chairman and F. H. Andrews secretary. #### WHICH?

The Regina Leader makes the following announcement as to a change in the executive at Regina which was hinted at or announced by the Calgary papers a week or two ago.

"Mr. Ross has taken the place of Mr. Neff as resident member of the executive committee of the assembly. The change is in pursuit of the course suggested and adopted prior to Mr. Neff's coming to Regina as resident member three years ago, but which for certain reasons did not become apparent. Before that time, Mr. Haultain alone of the committee had taken part in active transaction of Northwest governmental business. Meetings of the four members were occasionally held, it is true, but because the non-residents had no real personal knowledge of the workings of the system, it was more or less a system of one-man government. It was then decided that each of Mr. Haultain's three colleagues should spend, turn about, a few months in the offices to gain direct knowledge, by experience, of affairs. Mr. Tweed was to have come down three years ago, but, unfortunately, his business partner died, and he found it impossible to leave home. Mr. Neff, at great personal sacrifice, so he assures us, threw himself into the breach. As Mr. Mitchell never found it possible to leave his business at Durr Lake, Mr. Neff has, at great loss to himself (he assures us it is so), remained at Regina to the present time. Now Mr. Ross, who fills Mr. Tweed's place on the executive, is willing to take a turn at the wheel, and Mr. Neff's three years' sacrifice of self-interest upon the altar of his country will be rewarded by a respite from the arduous labors of statesmanship. He has been an attentive executive officer; and if his successor manifests an equal devotion to duty no fault will be found."

At the same time the Moosomin Spectator which is supposed to be in Mr. Neff's confidence as the Leader is in that of Mr. Haultain, repeats its denial of last week as to Mrs. Neff's being superseded by anyone. It does not make much difference to the public whether Mr. Neff or Mr. Ross fills the position of minister of public works at Regina, as long as it is properly filled. That Mr. Neff has done his duty faithfully and well in the past those who have had most business to transact with him will testify. That Mr. Ross is competent to do it as well in the future all who know him will agree. At the same time it is only fair to remark that the reason given for the change seems remarkably thin, and the language in which it is stated is not such as savors of that kindly feeling that might be expected to exist between colleagues in a responsible executive. The four members of the executive may arrange between themselves which two of them shall supervise the work of the offices in Regina and draw salary therefor, and it does not particularly concern the public. But if the readjustment, actual or contemplated, interferes with the prompt transaction of the public business,—as is reported,—that does concern the public intimately, and the executive as a whole will be held responsible.

SIR JOHN SCHULTZ.

Sir John and Lady Schultz arrived on Monday's train in a private car. They were met at the station by a number of Edmonton friends. They remained all night in their car and came across the river early in the afternoon, taking up their quarters in the Alberta Hotel. During the afternoon a large number of citizens and ladies were received by the distinguished visitors.

A public reception was given in Robertson hall at 8 o'clock in the evening. The hall was well filled and was handsomely decorated. The orchestral society was in attendance and gave excellent music during the evening. Sir John and Lady Schultz arrived at about half past eight and took seats upon the platform amid applause. J. A. McDougall, president of the board of trade, was chairman. There were also on the platform, H. W. McKenney, of St. Albert, nephew of Sir John Schultz, Jas. Gibbons, president of the Old Timers association; G. J. Kinnaird, president of the St. Andrew's society; Messrs. Oliver, Tims and Maloney, M. L. A.'s; Rev. Canon Newton, M. McCauley, D. Ross, Isaac Cowie, secretary of the board of trade; A. McNicol, secretary of the Old Timers association and others.

The chairman said that Edmonton had recently been honored with visits by many men of great name and holding very high positions, but by none whose names were more familiar from the Atlantic to the Pacific or who had done more for the advancement of the Great West of Canada, than Sir John Schultz.

Isaac Cowie secretary of the board of trade then read the following address: To the Honorable Sir John Christian Schultz, K. C. M. G., LL. D., F. R. S. C., M. D.

HONORABLE SIR: We the members of the Edmonton board of trade have great pleasure in welcoming you and your popular helpmeet, Lady Schultz, to this old frontier town of Edmonton. We greet you as a statesman prominent throughout the Dominion for foresight and ability, who from early manhood has devoted himself with courage and determination to the successful opening and development of the Northwest; and more especially as he who, by instituting and prosecuting the senate investigation into the resources of the Great Mackenzie basin, to which Edmonton is the gateway, has done more to promote the material interests of this district than any other statesman of the Dominion. In addressing you therefore it is needless to mention the unique position and possibilities of our district, on which subject you are, as student and public man, so eminently qualified to give us the benefit of your knowledge and advice. We trust that your health may long enable you to go on with your life work of developing and settling this Greater Canada of ours and that your present visit may induce you to permanently cast your lot in Edmonton. Thanking you for the pleasure and honor you have afforded us on this occasion.

On behalf of the Edmonton Board of Trade,
J. A. McDUGALL, President.
ISAAC COWIE, Sec.-Treasurer.

On rising to reply Sir John Schultz was received with loud applause. He thanked the board of trade for the kind address which had been read, and expressed his pleasure at the cordial reception which had been accorded Lady Schultz and himself. He had been laid on the shelf politically for the past several years, and this was the first opportunity he had since retiring from his lieutenant-governorship to express his views on the questions of the day. That the Northwest should properly become a part of Canada was recognized at the time of confederation and it was one of the great efforts of the statesmen who planned confederation to secure the addition of the Northwest. They finally succeeded by the payment of a large sum of money and the assumption of the responsibility of developing this vast Territory. It was a practical question just how that responsibility was being borne. The people who were here had a right to proper recognition by the government of the Dominion in assistance towards the fuller development of the country. From the days of his earliest connection with the Red River settlement he had heard of Edmonton as the great post of the H. B. Co. on the Saskatchewan. He met the miners who first discovered gold on the Saskatchewan when they brought the results of their labors to Fort Garry, and many doubted the reality of the find, which the extension of the industry from that time onward proved. But, "Out of sight-out of mind" was an old saying, and when the C. P. R. which was expected to be built through Edmonton was actually built 200 miles to the south, Edmonton and its resources and the claims of its pioneers were to a great extent forgotten by the government and the public, and it was not until after a lapse of nearly ten years that Edmonton was brought in touch with the commercial world by the construction of the branch railway. He did not think that the wisest policy had been pursued in economizing as to public expenditures in the development of the Northwest. He was a conservative, but a Sir John Macdonald conservative (applause) who believed first of all in the development and improvement of the country. He believed that when Canada undertook the responsibility of developing the Northwest, even with the limited resources of that day, the work should go on now, when our national resources were so much greater. The government was under contract in a manner with the pioneers, who had been induced to come here in the early days in the belief that a railroad would be built, to compensate them for having failed to carry out their bargain, by assisting development in other ways, such as the opening up of the north country, to the miner and trader and farmer. He felt that in the treatment of its western territories Canada could have profitably taken lessons from the United States. He was personally familiar with the course of settlement in the state of Minnesota. He had seen Minnesota thirty-five years ago when it had scarcely any settlement. There was a military post at Fort Snelling and the country around it was a wilderness. He was intimately acquainted with J. W. Taylor, for a long time United States consul at Winnipeg, and several other men prominent in United States politics, and through them he was somewhat familiar with the course of dealings of the federal government with the Territory. The name Territory indicated a condition of dependence upon the central authority for the betterment of the position of the Territory. In the case of Minnesota as a Territory, they seemed to be treated on the principle that there was no legitimate expenditure in the way of bridges, roads or development of any kind that could be shown to be of real public use that the government at Washington did not freely grant; on the principle that every dollar that was put in came back to the treasury twenty fold. As a result of that policy the rapidity of the settlement of the State of Minnesota was marvelous. It was in this respect that our government had somewhat failed to appreciate the situation as it was understood at the acquisition of the Territories; wherein they were somewhat behind the United States. A caviller might say: "It is easy enough to spend money to try to build up a country that is not worth building up; where you will never get any return in development or increase of population." But were these the conditions around Edmonton? He believed from what he saw and what he knew that the conditions were such as would warrant the government in giving all necessary assistance to make Edmonton what he believed in God's grace and with the restoration of his health, he would yet live to see it one of the great cities of Canada. (applause) Supposing a stranger bent upon the acquisition of knowledge was crossing the river here (and it was regrettable that he could not cross it on a bridge) and asked "Why is this town here?" the answer would be that the trade of nearly half a continent centres here. The fur products of the vast Mackenzie basin, the last great fur preserve of the world, all find their market at Edmonton. And as surely as the supply of fur decreases the value will increase. But the fur would some time be exterminated, what then? The soil. As one so long and deeply interested in Manitoba he must claim for the soil there that it was unexcelled in the world. But from what he had seen of the soil here and its products it was evident that Edmonton soil was not far behind it, if not fully equal in fertility. Such productive soil must sometime induce and support a large agricultural population in the district. But what other assets are there? The capability for the profitable production of stock, the great petroleum beds to the north, the gold of the Saskatchewan, and to his mind we were only at the beginning of our gold mining. Some day the matrix from which these fine particles of dust came would be found. The river which had to be crossed to reach Edmonton gave a great advantage in the building of a city near Winnipeg in the matter of good water, and healthy situation. It gave facilities for the cheap transport of coal and timber to the great agricultural region along both its banks for a distance of 500 miles. To the west and north was great quantities of timber that the treeless plains to the south and east would at some time require. To the north was a vast extent of valuable country with resources of petroleum, pitch, sulphur, salt, timber, gold and coal extending to the Arctic sea itself. And even there, although that could hardly ever be tributary to Edmonton, at the mouth of the Mackenzie was probably the last great remaining whale fishery of the world. A year ago seventeen United States whalers had wintered near the mouth of the Mackenzie, because it was profitable for them to be there. Five of those vessels had sold in San Francisco $80,000 worth of whalebone, as the result of their voyage. These are the resources of Edmonton, these are the claims that it has on the consideration of the government. When men came here on the promises of the government that the railway would be built, have these men no claim for consideration? Have they been unworthy of consideration? No, they were the men who had stood by the place and whom he regarded as holding in their hands the pledges of the government. And the government who gave those pledges and whose successors are now in office should give these men equivalent help in the development of the country they have so nobly stood by here in this city of Edmonton. (applause) When he remembered the early

SIR JOHN SCHULTZ.

efforts here; when he came to Manitoba a heartless as everybody heard of it as the great place in the west he had no idea that it would not have kept pace with Winnipeg. He would not have believed it. He had said to some of the members of the government privately that they had not stood by him. He was prepared to say that anywhere and everywhere; that we had a fair right to expect government assistance in our development. In conclusion he desired to thank most kindly the president and members of the board of trade for their address and the audience for their kind reception and hearing on behalf of his wife and himself. (Loud applause.)

Twice during the course of his remarks the speaker was obliged to stop for a short rest, during which the orchestra played selections.

Frank Oliver was called upon by the chairman and regretted very much that the visit of Sir John Schultz had not occurred at the same time as that of the premier, for the arguments advanced by the premier why Edmonton should not expect much from the government could not have been better met than by the arguments advanced by the distinguished visitor of the evening. He recalled the days of the early 70's in Winnipeg when their visitor was taking a prominent part in the political affairs of the then new country, and classed him as one of the greatest of the great men who had then fought for empire in Winnipeg, and whose presence and exertions had helped to build the country to the pitch it had attained. All regretted that their visitor should have to come to Edmonton to search for health, but all hoped that by taking up his residence here he would find it.

A. McNicol, secretary of the Old Timers association then read the following address: The Honorable Sir John Schultz, K. C. M. G., M. D.

Sir: We the members of the Old Timers association of Edmonton have great pleasure in welcoming to our midst one who is of timers one of the oldest, and one who has always taken the greatest interest, not only in the country, but in the people of the country, and more especially the old timers whom you have never forgotten in the elevated positions to which you have attained. When you arrived in Red River in the year 1860 and commenced practice as a physician, you also started a newspaper called the Nor-West, advocating the union of Rupert's land, now Manitoba and the Northwest Territories with Canada, which afterwards led to our entering into confederation; the credit of which belongs to you. Your friends the Old Timers of this country have been much gratified in watching your successful career, first a member of the house of commons for a Manitoba constituency, mostly of Old Timers, who were always amongst your strongest supporters, second as member of the Northwest council, third as senator and last as lieutenant-governor of Manitoba and Keewatin. In your professional capacity it is well known that all who have come in contact with you have found you a most skillful physician and it is a matter for admiration that through all your numerous public duties and positions you have always kept up with the times in medical knowledge. We were proud to learn that Her Majesty the Queen had so appreciated your services to your country as to create you a member of the distinguished order of St. Michael and St. George. We hope that the possibility of your coming to reside amongst us may result in benefitting your health, which is so precious to your friends, and to the Old Timers who have always looked up to you as their leader.

Wishing yourself and Lady Schultz a pleasant visit.

Signed on behalf of the Old Timers, JAS. GIBBONS, President. A. McNicol, Secretary.

Sir John Schultz in reply remarked in regard to both addresses not only the kindly feeling expressed, but the artistic way in which they were gotten up. He spoke at length as an Old Timer to Old Timers. He always felt that the pioneers of civilization in a country were entitled to the highest honors, and that they in turn should give ample justice to those who were here before them. That was the policy that he had always favored. When Canada desired to acquire the Northwest, the rights of the Indians, and also those of the Indians, on a fair basis. Then also the relatives of the Indians, the people of mixed blood, who had rights which must be respected. He paid a tribute to the missionaries who were in the fore front of the pioneers of civilization throughout the whole extent of this great country. The strongest inducement he had to take up his residence at Edmonton was the prospect of renewing his acquaintance with so many old friends whom he had known in the early days in Red River.

Rev. Father Lacombe was called on for a speech, but excused himself after expressing his accord with the sentiments of the addresses which had been presented.

Rev. Canon Newton was called on. Although he had never met Sir John Schultz before, still he knew something of him, and recalled having addressed a request to him many years ago, the courtesy of the reply to which he had always remembered and had hoped for an opportunity to express his appreciation of it. He spoke at some length of the responsibility of public men and of the people who constituted them their representatives, and counselled good speaking of those in high places, as they were the reflection of ourselves.

Donald Ross, recalled having read an interview held by an Ottawa newspaper with Dr. Schultz in regard to the Red River rebellion a couple of years after the event had occurred. He was then in Peace River and it was the first time he had heard of Dr. Schultz or the rebellion. He recited a piece of poetry of his own composition describing humorously his arrival in Edmonton in which was introduced a description of the cooking of richard, a dish composed of pen-can and flour, which was a main part of the food at Edmonton in the early days.

At the close of the proceedings a number of these present were presented to Sir John and Lady Schultz.

The orchestra society gave excellent music at intervals throughout the evening, the following being the list of pieces: Promenade March, Alpine Waltz, Aerona-Gallo, Madonna Waltz, Good Luck Schottische, Simple and Modest Polka, Auld Lang Syne and Alpine Waltz.

BY-LAW No. 107.

A By-law to provide for borrowing on the credit of the municipality at large the sum of $3,630.00.

Whereas for the purpose of permanently improving and benefiting the town, the Municipal Council has incurred debts as follows:

Cost of and incidental to the extension of Cliff street to the lower ferry,	$ 788 50
Costs of and incidental to the extension of McDougall street,	1491 50
Costs of and incidental to obtaining better railway and general traffic facilities for the town,	1350 00

Making a total of the sum of $3630 00

And whereas it is expedient to borrow the said sum of $3630.00 for the purpose of paying the said indebtedness, and for that purpose to issue the debentures of the municipality, whereof the principal shall be payable within twenty years from the date whereon this By-law shall take effect, and the interest thereon shall be payable half-yearly at the rate of six per cent. per annum.

And whereas it is expedient to provide for the repayment of the said principal sum by the creation of an equal yearly sinking fund.

And whereas the total amount to be raised annually by special rate for payment of the said debt by means of a sinking fund as aforesaid, and the amount of interest thereon, is $330.00.

And whereas the amount of the whole of the rateable property according to the last revised assessment roll is $57,863.00.

And whereas the amount of the existing debt of the municipality outside of the debt due for the current expenses of the year, is $14,302 23, incurred in respect of local improvements, and $24,700 00 incurred in respect of permanent improvements, whereof no part is in arrears.

And whereas the special rate on the dollar on the rateable property in the municipality according to the last revised assessment roll required as being sufficient to pay the said interest and create the said equal yearly sinking fund for the payment of the principal is thirty-five one-hundredths of a mill.

Therefore the Mayor and Council of the Municipality of the Town of Edmonton in council assembled, enacts as follows:

1. This By-law to take effect on the 2nd day of September, 1895.

2. The Mayor and Clerk of the Municipality may borrow upon the credit of the Municipality the said sum of $3630.00, and may execute and issue debentures of the Municipality to that amount in sum of not less than $500.00 each, repayable within twenty years from the said second day of September, 1895, with interest at the rate of six per cent. per annum, payable half-yearly; such debentures to be payable at the office of the Treasurer of the Municipality, and to have attached to them coupons for the payment of interest.

3. For the purpose of paying the amount which shall be required to be raised annually for paying the said interest, and creating an equal yearly sinking fund to be set apart for the payment of the said principal sum of $3630.00, a special rate of thirty-five one-hundredths of a mill in the dollar over and above all other rates and taxes shall be levied, (in the same manner and at the same time as the general municipal tax) upon the whole rateable property of the municipality in each year for the period of twenty years, being the period during which the said debentures will run and within which the debt created thereby is to be discharged.

4. Friday, the 30th day of August, 1895, between the hours of nine o'clock in the forenoon and five o'clock in the afternoon at the office of the Town Clerk, Edmonton, is hereby fixed as the day and hour and place for taking the votes of the electors for and against the By-law.

5. A. G. Randall is hereby appointed as Returning Officer, and St. George Jellett, Deputy Returning Officer to take the votes at the said time and place.

6. Friday, the 30th day of August, 1895, at the hour of six o'clock in the afternoon at the office of the Town Clerk, Edmonton, is hereby fixed as the time and place when and where the Returning Officer will sum up the number of votes given for and against this By-law.

Provisionally adopted in council this 7th day of August, 1895.

C. F. STRANG, Acting Mayor
[L. S.] A. G. RANDALL, Town Clerk

Finally passed in Council this 33th day of August, A. D. 1895.

BANQUET AT ST. ALBERT.

A banquet and reception in honor of Sir John and Lady Schultz was given at St. Albert yesterday evening by Mr. and Mrs. H. W. McKenney in N. St. Jean's hotel. In the afternoon a reception was held at Mr. McKenney's residence where a large number of ladies and gentlemen were presented to the distinguished visitors.

Seats were taken at the banquet at 7:30 and about 100 guests were present. The spread was bounteous and put on in a way that would do credit to a city. The chair was occupied by D. Maloney, M. L. A., with the guest of the evening at his right and Rev. Father Lacombe at his left. The host, H. W. McKenney, nephew of Sir John sat at his right hand. Vice-chairs were occupied by F. Fraser Times, M. L. A., J. A. McDougall, president of the Edmonton board of trade, Major Griesbach, N. D. Beck, Q. C., and S. S. Taylor, Q. C. After ample justice had been done to the spread, an address from the English residents of St. Albert was read by Geo. W. Gairdner, and an address from the French residents was read by A. Prince. Sir John replied happily to the English address, and at his request Rev. Father Lacombe replied for him to the French address, but speaking most ably in English.

The toasts were proposed by the chairman and were:

"The Queen," God Save the Queen, in response.

"The Army and Navy," responded to by Major Griesbach. Sir John Schultz and Rev. Father Lacombe also spoke eulogizing the mounted police force.

"The North West Assembly," by F. Fraser Times, M. L. A. for Victoria.

"The Learned Professions," by Messrs. Beck and Taylor, Q. C.'s; also by Donald Ross as a special reader in old times; by Dr. Braithwaite, and by the guest of the evening speaking as Dr. Schultz of the clerical and medical professions, with great effect.

"The Merchantile interests," by Messrs. McDougall, Pottam and McKenney.

"The Agricultural interests," by M. McCauley.

"The Press," by Mr. Grogan, of the Edmonton Herald.

"The Ladies," by F. Fraser Times, M. L. A. and A. McNicol.

"Our Host," was proposed by Mr. S. S. Taylor, and responded to by Mr. McKenney.

"The chairman," proposed by F. Fraser Times, M. L. A., and responded to by Mr. Maloney.

Songs by Messrs. Longworthy, McNicol, Times, Brunette, Prince and Purches were interspersed throughout the entertainment.

The ladies who attended the reception had a splendid tea served at Mrs. McKenney's while the banquet was in progress.

The banquet was concluded about 11 o'clock by the singing of "Auld lang Syne."
